After years of tramping the footpaths of the Highlands and late nights drinking with the trawlermen in the Marine Hotel, Sophie Mackay of Mallaig knows just what she wants. A big bed! "I spent all my teenage years being a tomboy," reveals the 21-year-old who helps run her parents' B&B. "Now I just want to relax and have my 34-22-34 body pampered by a gorgeous guy in a huge four poster!" Femininity may have come late to Miss Mackay, but she's using it to her best advantage. "Silk undies and stockings aren't very common round here, so I usually end up with the best looking guy at discos," she says proudly. "And my kissing technique has improved a wee bit too. Let me show you..." Och, Miss Mackay, you're a bonnie lassie now and no mistake.

MEL MASTERS

PHOTOGRAPHS BY LEO CARPENTER

Mel is searching for good-looking guys to try out her body language on. That's right, the 21-year-old Manchester lass with the 38-25-34 figure reckons she's hopeless with blokes. "I seem to give off all the wrong signals," she moaned. "Men are never interested — even when I'm wearing a lowcut top and a skirt that barely covers my bottom." Melanie wants to practice flirting and see what effect it has on men. "I can feel as horny as hell but can't seem to put it across," she complained. "Take these pictures. Posing really made me feel like long, slow, sensuous sex with the first man I met, but I bet you guys don't think so. Write and let me know." Modest Melanie also reckons she's a lousy kisser. "I'm so out of practice," she sighed. "Anyone prepared to give me lessons?" Applications in writing only, please!

If you meet 20-year-old Clare Morpeth, save your witty one-liners and cheeky chat-up lines for someone else. "I hate those carefully rehearsed clichés," complains Clare from her smart flat in Battersea. "I'm much more likely to be seduced by a nice smile, a red rose and something romantic whispered in my ear." Clare's 34-23-35 figure can be seen most often in the Kings Road where she is a dedicated window shopper. "I love Vivienne Westwood's stuff. Just putting it on makes me feel so sensual. If I could wear that all the time, I'd be sexually harassing men everywhere 'til they took me to bed. Unfortunately I can't afford to!" Now that's what we call an excuse for a telethon! Just watch that switchboard light up!

PENNY SIMMS

I say! It's enough to make you swallow your monocle! Some young flibbertigibbet is taking her clothes off in that most hallowed bastion of all things right and proper, the gentleman's club! The little minx is perky Penny Simms, a naughty 19-year-old who adores taking the piss out of all things pompous. "If I see some old stiff in a suit, I love flashing me stocking tops at him," the Leeds lass giggled. "So when somebody suggested giving the old buffers in a real club a proper view of my 34-22-33 figure, I couldn't resist."

Purple-faced Colonels gasped as bad Penny peeled off her formal gear in a leather wing armchair, copies of The Times rustling on their laps. And when Miss Simms lifted her seamed-stockinged legs to reveal a pussy so neat it could become a member of The Atheneum, the older, fatter ones started clutching their chests ominously. "I thought I'd given one old bastard a coronary," said Penny irreverently. "In fact it was his swelling trousers pulling on his braces and tweak-ing his nipples!" At the end, they gave her the sort of restrained applause you'd expect to hear in the Long Room at Lords. "I was going to reward all the members with a big kiss," Penny told us, "but they were afraid of getting blackballed! It sounded rather painful, so I blew them one instead!"

When we last met Melanie a few months ago, you may recall she was having problems with her body language. "I must use more faulty signals than Network SouthEast," the 21-year-old Manchester Miss joked. But we're happy to say that she is improving all the time, as this set of her stunning 38-25-34 figure proves. "I still tend to go over-the-top," the Timperley lady said. "I mean if I fancy a fella, I pout, lick my lips, and all but stuff his face down my cleavage. I even drop peanuts down it and ask him to find them! Take this guy I met in The Sportsman. I dragged him away from his mates, and deliberately spilt lager down my top so he'd wipe it off. Okay, I'm not subtle, but I get what I want."

It's smooth, shiny and very, very sexy. Satin. Probably the most sensuous fabric in the world — according, at least, to Emily Parkes. When we first met the 20-year-old Derbyshire girl (making her debut in our Girl Next Door in Vol 27 No 5) she never mentioned that she finds the fabric so horny, she wears it next to her skin every day and sleeps on it every night. "When I slide around on my satin sheets I can give myself an orgasm all on my own," says the slim Geordie. "It feels so cool on my boobs, just rubbing them on the sheets has my nipples rock hard." It's just as well that the secret satin fetishist is able to satisfy her needs privately, 'cos at present she has no boyfriend. "I could only go out with a guy who shared my obsession," she says. "He must like my wardrobe. I've got more satin suits and glossy gowns than Abba!"

Windsor wench Wendy Moore can be as rude as you like in front of the lens, but ask her out for a drink and the 36-23-25 Berkshire beauty is quieter than a church mouse. "I've never been good with fellas," she says. "I get all shy. Modelling is great, I can say all the things I want to but never have the nerve. All my secret fantasies come out, and they're pretty naughty too, but I could never ever tell a guy for real." Not surprisingly then, the 19-year-old has yet to find the right man in her life. "He's got to be able to sense what I want him to do," she says with a sigh. "Of course, he might be able to guess from the pictures. If you can tell what I'm thinking about, then you're the guy for me!" Ⓜ

When Joanne Derbyshire bought a rambling Georgian house in Bath, she had no idea just how much decorating would be involved. "Baggy paint-covered overalls are all I seem to wear these days," the 23-year-old moaned. "I don't think anyone in Bath has any idea there's a woman underneath." It was that thought that gave her the idea for this set — a beautiful 34-24-34 basque-wearing butterfly emerging from her denim chrysalis. "I only wish some tall, hunky builder would slowly strip off my overalls and realise that there is a deeply sensual woman underneath," she sighed. "Then we could forget about painting and make love in the mess on the floor. But no, there's still the hall to do, then the kitchen, and the bathroom. I do wish somebody would give me a hand..."
